```html
1    <html>
2        <head>
3        <title> armstrong number or not.</title>
4        <script>
5                sum = 0;
6                number = prompt('Enter a three-digit positive integer: ');
7                temp = number;// create a temporary variable
8                while (temp > 0) {
9                    let remainder = temp % 10;// finding the one's digit
10                   sum += remainder * remainder * remainder;
11                   temp = parseInt(temp / 10); // removing last digit from the number //
                     convert float into integer
12                   }
13
14                if(sum == number) {
15                    document.write(`${number} is an Armstrong number`);
16                    }
17                else {
18                    document.write(`${number} is not an Armstrong number.`);
19                    }
20        </script>
21        </head>
22        <body>
23        </body>
24
25   </html>
```